

The AQCID, non-profit organization, mission is:

- Regroup essentially community organizations working principally in the field of addiction;
 - Promote consultation and unity of action between members;
 - Represent its members to the population and relevant bodies such as political, community and public;
 - Provide a forum for action and information, knowledge, research and expertise exchange;
 - Support the excellence and quality of the activities lead by its members.
-